Riley named 2008 Not-for-Profit CFO of the Year

Daniel J. Riley, Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, Goodwill Industries of Central Indiana, was named the 2008 Not-For-Profit CFO of the Year by the Indianapolis Business Journal at an event in Indianapolis on Dec. 2.

The Indianapolis Business Journal launched this statewide awards program to recognize the enormously important work of chief financial officers throughout Indiana. An insert in the Dec. 8 edition of the Indianapolis Business Journal will feature Riley and the other CFOs honored the event.

Since Riley joined Goodwill 11 years ago, the organization has grown from a $20 million operation to a $75 million organization, employing 2,100 people in 39 counties and 60 locations. The retail division has grown from 25 to 41 stores, most of that growth since 2005, and Goodwill added a public charter high school, the Indianapolis Metropolitan High School.

“Dan is exceptionally deserving of this recognition,” said Jim McClelland, President, Goodwill Industries of Central Indiana. “To do all that needs to be done, Dan has assembled a highly capable team of staff who bring good business skills and a strong commitment to the mission.”

Riley is responsible for accounting, finance, risk management, real estate and facilities, and safety and loss prevention. He holds a Bachelor of Science in accounting from Indiana State University.
